and and influential events of an age; but they are of far less importance to history than the unseen and unsuspecting impulses that are shaping the soul of some great man. The forces that made a Napoleon a Browning, a Lincoin, a Tennyson, a Kipling, have a far greater effect upon the history of the human race than any of the book-filling events that are stupendous gifts of millions of dollars for public objects (by men who do not know how else to use them) actually count for less than the unheralded gift of himself to human welfare aby some unsuspected man or woman who is to be a great prophet or a who have not a shreed of sympathy with this propaganda, confess that they have not a shreed of sympathy with this propaganda, confess that they have never read such sublime and beautiful literature in the native tongue as these young patriots are producing. They admit that it is between the feforts to long-suffering friends, or to secondrate hired literary hacks, for criticism. What really alis them is that they have no conviction.

In India I have come across an extraordinary and revealing fact: The Vuniversal Duty of Making Pledges." Ps. 61:5-3.

EY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

A pledge without a purpose. He who has promised will surely fulfill. Human covenants, with this propaganda, confess that they have never read such subline to the most exalted language, so that professors of literature, with the propaganda confess that they have not a shred of sympathy with this propaganda. The professors of literature in the native tongue as these young patriots are producing. They admit that it is between the firm of the mouthpiece of the Omniscient and Omnipotent Jehova.

Pledges and Pledge-Makers.

Terse Comments for May 14. "The Universal Duty of Making Pledges." Ps. 61:5-3.

EY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

A pledge without a purpose. He who has promised will sure to posterity than any of Israel's kings, except David and Solomon. We read that he lived in the reign of King Uzziah; it would be a fairer record to say that King Uzziah lived in the time of that Aling testain lived in the chief of the control of the creation of Shakespeare. What is a mere king or office-holder or man of great wealth, alongside of the prophet whose lips have been touched by the Divine that the control of the creation of patriots who will redeem our popular songs from their insufferable vulgarity and inanity who will produce new forms of patriotism and socialized literature—satires, allegories, poems. lips have been touched by the Divine fire? In all respect and honor to the proverbs, who will elevate caricature limping Christians, as a guide for dememory of that great peacemaker. King Edward, we may yet admit that posterity will probably recall his reign synchronising with some of the greatest productions of Britain's poet of empire, Rudyard Kipling. This last of empire, Rudyard Kipling. This last little for the flying machine to the holy classes of nationalism and internationalism. In a word, who will they are not trival. It is not so much a support for limping Christians, as a guide for determined Christians. It helps us to keep the straight road to duty.

God's help is pledged to man's help for the keeping of man's pledges to God.

While pledges are right and proper, they are not trival. It is a grave matter, they are not trival. It is a grave matter, they are not trival. It is a grave matter, and the pledges are right and proper, they are not trival. It is a grave matter, and the pledges are right and proper, they are not trival. It is a grave matter, and the pledges are right and proper, they are not trival. It is a grave matter to the moving-picture machines, and the phonograph; who will the moving-picture machines, and the phonograph with a moving-picture machines, and the phonograph with a moving-picture machines, and the phonograph with a moving-picture machines, and the phonograph will the moving-picture machines and the phonogra to the lesson, because of the funda-mentally religious character of Kip-ling's message of patriotism. The Call of the Hour,

The day's papers are full of news concerning dreadnaughts and armies and airships and national defense and international alliances. But these do not touch the vital need of the hour. Our call is for prophet-patriots, men who in the clear speech of the pres-ent day, will summon their fellows to their real destiny. Our time is sadly destitute of inspired oracles who can play upon the hearts of the people, the

"Out of the great wise slience, brood-Burst on the world, O Master—sing us the big man-song!

Schooled with our dream the light- main vacant. ning and stream, giving them thoughts and wills?

"Breathless we halt in our labor; shout us a song to cheer; Something that's swift as a saher, keen for the mark as a spear;

"Full of the echoes of battle-souls crying up from the dust!

eled and polished and fine.

Poets we must have, to interpret our best selves to our best selves, and prophets and patriots; men with the seer vision, who can tell us whither we are tending, and why; who can "read the storm before it falls," that we may "make the better haste of it," as one times; real statesmen lead them—and oftener than not the statesman is a man outside of all public office. The preacher may be a statesman; frequently the newspaper editor is; the woman who is denied a vote is yet not denied the greater privilege of serving her country by her deep spiritual insight. There will never again be another Joan of Arc, to go forth to battle, but we may well expect that the hosts of highest patriotism and human and the states of the lands which he subjugated would milleniums after his power had gone to dust, be the teacher and inspirer of millions of persons in a civilization far greater than that which Assyria boasted. Isaiah is the greatest of the Old Testament prophets, because his sense of God was clear and strong; and because he applied to his time the message that God gave him.

A Little God or a Big?

Yesterday I was in the bazars, buying goods for my friend, the professor of comparative religions. I carried hosts of highest patriotism and human service will be led by the song, the vision, the summons, of women prophets.

This flaming message of the Proph-

Grow With a Growing Bank

We want the small account and have every facility for handling the large one. Open that account MON-DAY with

The Topeka State Bank

The Nation's Greatest Need.

The International Sunday School Lesson for May 14 is, "Isaiah's Vision and Call to Service." Isaiah 6.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

HE international discussion et reciprocity, the fortification of the Panama Canal, the Coronation of a King—these may seem to be the important and influential events of an age; but they are of far less importance to history than the unseen shaping the soul of some great man. The forces that made a Napoleon. a by some unsuspected man or woman who is to be a great prophet or a great deliverer. The Lesson Committee has done well to make this majestic story of the self-dedication of Isalah the basis of a study in present-day patriotism, or home missions.

The man who writes, an' the man who speaks, may, if his message is great enough, and greatly delivered, rank above all the kings of his time. Thus Isalah is deservedly better known to posterity than any of Israel's kings. service. Is not this a practical mes-sage for today's Sunday school classes? Without its first clause. But if w Let us learn to speak and write and on Jesus, it would be disloyalty draw and make music, all for the sake of our native land and our fathers' lave us do.

God. There is every evidence that we Peculiar and precious promises have literature—satires, allegories, poems, proverbs, who will elevate caricature to its highest form and use: who will ideals and deepest needs of our country and the world.

Where Are the Prophets?

All truth belongs to today; it is less Isaiah's message to the old Jews than to the living, wandering, sinning, beclouded men and women of our own time that concerns us now. The writer of this wonderful book, with its beau-tiful passages which have become im-bedded in the literature of the language, stands first of all for the truth that every time needs prophets. Why are the big pulpits of America sending hearts that are so quick to give forth the divine music of noble life, under the master touch. This sense of our day's need for a fresh message is vigorously put by John Neihardt, in his poem, "O Lyric Master:"

guage. stands first of all for the truth that every time needs prophets. Why are the big pulpits of America sending across the water for preachers? It is a pleasant expression of international good will to have these men from the mother country; but what an indictmother country; but what an indict-ment of ourselves! It is nothing less ment of ourselves! It is nothing less than a confession that America, on both sides of the Canadian border, is not producing her own prophets. Even Only "Have we not piled up cities, gutted with frequent importations, an alarming number of conspicuous pulpits re-

Frankly, we badly need religious leaders. No, not prominent ecclesiastics; the world, the flesh and the devil constantly conspire to the overproduc-tion of this undesirable article. But men, who know God and who know man; who walk in such intimacy with the Eternal, that spiritual things are Hungry we have cried to our singers our singers have flung us a crust!

the most real to them, shd yet know themselves but men, weak, sinning men, needing pardon along with the worst, so that they are brothers to all "Choked with the smoke of the battle, staggering, weary with blows, we cried for a goblet of music; they flung us the dew of a rose! "Gewgaw goblets they gave us, jew-lose of the reality and awful holiness of the infinite is still, as it was never greater. They who keep close to God are properly nighest to men. The sense of the reality and awful holiness of the infinite is still, as it was never greater. They who keep close to God are properly nighest to men. The sense of the reality and awful holiness of the infinite is still, as it was never greater. They who keep close to God are properly nighest to men. The sense of the reality and awful holiness of the infinite is still, as it was never greater. They who keep close to God are properly nighest to men. The sense of the reality and awful holiness of the infinite is still, as it was never greater. And filled with the tears of a week-ling; O God! for a gourd—and wine!

In Isaiah's day, the most necessary equipment of the prophet. A keen realization of God is more to be cov-"O big wise Lyric Master, you who bave seen us build."

eted than the learning of the schools funds or the cunning of worldly wisdom. It is that which makes brave the mestrate that which makes the m baye seen us build.

Moulding the mud with our tears and blood into the thing we willed—
"Soon, shall your brooding be over, ihe dream shall be ripened, and then.

Thunderous out of the silence—hurl us the song of men!"

Poets we must have, to interpret our best selves to our selves to our best selves to our selves to our

Yesterday I was in the bazars, buy-ing goods for my friend, the professor of comparative religions. I carried

She Was Cured.

Several away in my pockets, for—this is the great teaching of the trivial incident—the gods of the heathen are all little gods. Some thousands of them are so small and ignoble as to merit the contempt of even their own followers who have received a western education. It is a fair question to ask concerning any person's religion, is your God a little God or a great God? The God of Isalah was an ineffable and all-glorious God, throned in majesty above all kings, before whom the celestian cherubim and seraphim velled their faces and cried, "Holyholy, holy!" The lustrous purity and majesty of the Infinite made the prophet cry, "Woe is me!" Nothing creates a consciousness of sinfulness like the sight of holiness. The best way to awaken the world to a sense of its sins is to give it a vision of the great God.

This great God can enable small servants to do great work. That is a heartening truth which Isalah teaches. His own sinfulness was taken away, and he was equipped for his mission by the touch of a coal from the altar was afforded filled him with eagerness to cry aloud what he had heard. The truth of God never really gets hold of a man without making him a missionary. If the gospel be true, he that hears it must run with it. The measure of God Such a sight as the prophet was afforded filled him with eagerness to cry aloud what he had heard. The truth of God never really gets hold of a man without making him a missionary. If the gospel be true, he that hears it must run with it. The measure of God Such a sight as the prophet was afforded filled him with eagerness to cry aloud what he had heard. The true, he that hears it must run with it. The measure of God Such a sight as the prophet was afforded filled him with eagerness to cry aloud what he had heard. The true, he that hears it must run with it. The measure of the cry little improvement.

The we had read so much hew people and the country of the country of the country of the country of the little of the hole of the country of the country of the several away in my pockets, for—this is the great teaching of the trivial incident—the gods of the heathen are all little gods. Some thousands of them are so small and ignoble as to merit the contempt of even their own merit the contempt of even their own followers who have received a western education. It is a fair question to ask education. It is a fair question to ask concerning any person's religion, is your God a little God or a great God? The God of Isalah was an ineffable and all-glorious God, throned in majesty above all kings, before whom the celestian cherubim and seraphim veiled their faces and cried, "Holy, holy, holy!" The lustrous purity and majesty of the Infinite made the prophet cry, "Woe is nie!" Nothing creates a consciousness of sinfulness like the sight of holiness. The best way to awaken the world to a sense of its sins is to give it a vision of the great God.

This great God can enable small ser-great God.

This great God can enable small servants to do great work. That is a heartening truth which Isaiah teaches.
His own sinfulness was taken away,
and he was equipped for his mission by the touch of a coal from the altar of God. Such a sight as the prophet was afforded filled him with eagerness to cry aloud what he had heard. The truth of God never really gats hold of was afforded filed film with eagents to cry aloud what he had heard. The truth of God never really gets hold of a man without making him a missionary. If the gospel be true, he that hears it must run with it. The measure of our vital apprehension of the reality of our religion is shown by the diagree to which we have become imdegree to which we have become im-parters of it. "Here am I; send me!" cry all who have seen Gcd; truth be-and beautiful literature in the native strong determination to fulfill them. tongue as these young patriots are producing. They admit that it is beyond their power to give at, adequate translation of it into English.

To be a loyal Endeavorer requires a true purpose, working out faithfully yound their power to give at, adequate translation of it into English.

God is covenanted to help us keep

The pledge would be presumption without its first clause. But if we rely made to those who keep covenant Paul's.

chart. It is not so much a support for limping Christians, as a guide for determined Christians. It helps us to keep the straight road to duty.

cause of nationalism and international-ism—in a word, who will take of the resources of this twentieth century, own conscience; it is a still graver and make them minister to the noblest matter to enter into a covenant with the Most High. Both of these engage-ments are made by one who signs the Christian Endeavor piedge. To break this vow is to incur a disaster in our character. Failure to observe what we have promised to do is a sin. Once made, the pledge should be kept at all costs, if we are to preserve our self respect, and if we are to preserve faith with God.

The man who breaks his word to man is bad; but far worse is he who breaks his word to God.
"Better is it thou should not vow, than that thou shouldst vow and not whatever is right for us to do, is right for us to promise to do. The determination is as proper as the deed. Our warrant for our pledge lies in the lating. worth of the objects to which we are Only the person who reverences his own honor should enter into any cov-enant, either with man or with God. High pledges precede noble en-denvors.

A vow is often a debt. It was when he contemplated the goodness of God to him, asking himself
"What shall I render unto Jehovah, For all his benefits unto me?"

hat the Psalmist cried gratefully and "I will pay my vows unto Jehovah."

A fair promise of loyalty and service is only an honorable return for the benefits conferred. Because God has, according to his covered.

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York have appealed to Anglicans for funds to fight Disestablishment in

EYES RED, WOULD BURN AND STING

Grew Constantly Worse. Could Hardly Work Any More. Used Cuticura Remedies, and in Six Weeks She Was Cured.

The committee of the Men and Religion Forward Movement has set apart Children's Sunday, June 11, as Recognition Day. It is hoped that individual churches at this time will organize their men by holding special services and appointing permanent committees to represent them in the active campaign between September, 1911, and May, 1912.

Preparations for the Judson Center.

Preparations for the Judson Centen-nial celebration in 1913-14 have al-ready begun. On March 16 at Roch-ester, Pres. A. H. Strong was elected chairman of a special commission. The object of this celebration is to show to every Baptist church in Am-erica the history, the results and the needs of mission work in foreign fields. needs of mission work in foreign fields. Special emphasis will be put at all times on Burma, the center of Baptist foreign mission work. A deputation will be sent to Burma. All Baptist churches will observe a special Judson day and a Judson Centennial volume will be published during the winter of will be published during the winter of 1913-14.

At Khartum, on the banks of the Nile, stands Gordon Memorial College, a training school established on the spot where Gordon fell. In 1898, Khartum was the stronghold of the Mahdi's successor. Now it has a college with three departments: (1) a normal school that is training young normal school that is training young men to become teachers and judges; (2) a primary school for 2 larger num-ber of pupils, most of whom will eventually hold government positions; eventually hold government positions; C. Everett, pastor. Morning and even-(3) a manual training department ing worship, 11 and 8 o'clock, with serwill furnish the land with its much-needed artisans.

Evangelical spirit has been notably active in England during the Lenten season this year. The Bishop of London has held daily meetings at which J. Lewis, pastor. men have filled the churches, showing intense interest and asking many ques-tions following his addresses. At St. Albans cathedral, for example, the congregation was more than congregation was more than two thousand, while many were unable to gain admission. The series of meet-ings closed Good Friday afternoon, with a great procession of clergy and laity from Trafalgar Square to St. Paul's. More than four thousand men were in line, with the Bishop of Lon-don in the midst. This is a revival of Pledges lightly made are lightly don in the midst. This is a revival of broken.

The pledge is not a crutch, but a an act of intercession and making an having knowledge are tolerant, and having wisdom, are sympathetic."

Plant patience in the garden of thy The roots are bitter, but the fruits are Recollection is the only Paradise from which we cannot be turned out. -Jean Paul Richter.

Labor and trouble one can always get through alone, but it takes two to be glad.—Ibsen.

"Every morrow has two handles— we can take hold of it by the handle of anxiety, or the handle of faith."

Sow thou sorrow and theu shalt reap.
But sow thou joy and thou shalt keep it .- Gilder. Bible Study XXX.

Text: Ezra 7-10; Nehemiah 1-6; memory verse, Nehemiah 4:6b. 1. How long between the Dedica-tion of the Temple and Ezra's return? 2. How long did Ezra's journey take? 3. Who was pronounced a ready in the land?

6. How did Ezra express his gratitude for the privilege and help granted him by the king?
7. What needful party had to be urged to join the expedition?

8. How many priests guarded the

9. Why did Ezra refuse an escort on the journey? 10. How do we know the people had prospered? 11. How did the whole company ex press their gratitude for a prosperous

12. In what chapter is Ezra's prayer 13. What great sin did Ezra cor rect in chapter ten?

14. How were the people compelled to assemble?

15. Where and when did people sit in the street in the rain to hear a prophet's warning?

16. What captive Jew grieved so bitterly that he was permitted to return to rebuild Jerusalem?

17. What was Nehemiah's business?

18. How did Nehemiah's coming to Jerusalem affect the enemies of the Jews?

19. How did the people accept his suggestion to rebuild the walls of

25. In how many days were the walls of Jerusalem rebuilt?

I wish every member of the class would be present at this meeting, no matter how much or how little work has been done. Plan to bring back borrowed books and extra lessons and leave nothing unfinished that ought to be done. I hope all class members will remember to get tickets for the banquet at the class Tuesday, so we may know definitely what we can do. In checking up the books, we will not count off on newspaper questions or summary chart, but think it would mean more to have both complete.

MRS. C. F. MENNINGER.

CHURCH NOTICES.

Walnut Grove Methodist, corner Sixteenth and Harrison streets, C. B. Zook, pastor. Public worship 11 a. m., sermon theme, "Christian Stewardship." Twenty-second anniversary of Epworth league at 8 p. m.. Short address: "Inspiration." Special music by the chorus and a 15-piece orchestra.

East Side Methodist Episcopal church, Seventh and Lime streets, D. A. Shutt, pastor. In the hour of public worship, 11 a. m., the pastor will preach. The Epworth League will give an anniver-sary program at 8 p. m.

Church of St. Simon the Cyrenian (Episcopal), Seventh and Western avenue, the Rev. H. B. Brown, priest. 7 a. m. celebration of the Holy Eucharist; ever since the college was founded. If a. m. choral matins with sermon, and only twenty-nine were in favor of making attendance optional.

The committee of the Men and Recommittee of

First Baptist church. Rev. O. A. Williams will preach. The subject of the morning sermon will be, "Moral Battlements." In the evening the theme will be, "Why Men Are Offended in Christ."

The Church of Christ meets in the S. D. A. chapel at corner of Fifth and Western avenue. Special meetings now in progress. Evangelist W. M. Davis will speak to his audience Sunday at 11 a. m. on the subject, "The Last Judgment." Evening theme, "The Names Written in Heaven."

Christian Endeavor society of The Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church meets at 7 p. m. Topic: "Universal Duty of Making Pledges." Ps. 61:5-8. Miss Delva Kohnie, leader.

Kansas Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, John W. Waldron, pastor, Sermon by the pastor at 11 a. m., subject, "Mother." Everybody asked to wear white flower. Sermon at 8 p. m. by the pastor. Subject, "A Woman's Noble

Third Presbyterian church, Rev. Jay mon by the pastor. The pastor's even-ing theme is, "What the People Want."

Second United Brethren church. Di-First Presbyterlan church, Harris street, Rev. Stephen S, Estey, D. D., pastor, Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner Huntoon and Polk streets, Services at 11 a. m. Subject, "Mortals and Immortals." Sunday evening service at 8 o'clock.

First Christian church on Topeka avenue, between Sixth and Seventh streets, Charles A. Finch, pastor. Communion and preaching 11 a. m. Even-ing service 8 o'clock.

Westminster Presbyterian church, Rev. Ralph Ward, pastor. The theme in the morning will be "The Gospel, Hidden and Revealed." In the even-SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS.

"The truly cultured are those who ledge of God."

In the evening the pastor will preach on "The Great Verities, We Have the Knowledge are tolerent and Revealed."

German Methodist Episcopal church, corner Tyler and West Fifth street. John Koehler, pastor. Morning ser-vice at 10:45 a. m., subject, "Love and Obedience." Evening meeting at 8 p. m., subject, "Drawing Nigh to God."

The Spiritualists of Topeka will hold The Spiritualists of Topeka will hold services at the Lincoin Post hall on Sixth avenue on Sunday evening, May 14, at 8 o'clock sharp. Rev. Charles H. Moody, state president Kansas Spiritualists association, will deliver a lecture on Spiritualism. Gertrude C. Aber will assist in the services and William W. Aber will follow with his psychic messages. psychic messages.

First United Presbyterian church, corner Eighth and Topeka avenues, Rev. J. A. Renwick, D. D., pastor. Preaching 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. by the First Congregational church, Seventh and Harrison streets, Mr. Guy V. Aldrich of New York, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteers' movement of Foreign Missions, will speak at the morning service. In the evening Dr. Fisk will give his illustrated lecture on Protestantism and Its Baptism of Blood—Edward VI and Mary Tudor.

Central Park Christian church, corner Sixteenth and Central Park avenue, Albert T. Fitts, minister. Preaching at 11 o'clock, subject, "The Victory That Overcomes the World," (I. John 5:4); at 8 p. m. the subject will be "Consider Levil" (Victory That 2). (Heb. 3:1).

First Unitarian church, 912 Topeka avenue, Rev. J. H. Jones, pastor. Services 11 a. m. Sermon by the pastor. Music: Solo—selected—by Mrs. F. S.

Second Church of Christ Scientist corner of Harrison and Sixth avenue Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sub-ject, "Mortals and Immortals."

First United Brethren church. First United Brethren church. The pastor, O. T. Deever, will preach at 11 a. m. on the subject, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" At 8 p. m. the subject will be, "The Year Round Revival."

Euclid Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, corner Lane street and Euclid avenue. Rev. Edwin Locke, D. D., pastor, residence, 1202 West street. II a. m.. Dr. Locke will preach on "Mother," and at 8 p. m., a sermon on the anniversary of the League. Special muric morning and evening.

Lowman chanel. (Methodist Enisco Lowman chapel. (Methodist Episco-pal) corner Eleventh and Morris. Ser-vices. with preaching by the pastor, George A. Marvel, at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m. Morning theme, "The Sleeping Christ;" evening theme. "Lost and Found."

Jerusalem?

20. How did the criticism of the scorners affect him?

21. How many leaders are mentioned in chapter three?

22. On what occasion were laborers armed and why?

23. How did news of the burden of debt on the people affect Nehemiah?

24. How did Nehemiah help the people?

Found."

The Second United Presbyterian, corner Fillmore and Huntoon streets, D. Everett Smith, minister. Usual services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., conducted by the pastor. The morning service will be centered about the observance of "Mothers' Day." the theme being "Mothers' Day." The subject for the evening will be "Things New and Old."

Oakland Presbyterian church. At 11 o'clock the pastor, Rev. J. H. Fazel, will preach a Sabbath school sermon in the interests of the school. At 3 p.

FOR YSPEPSIA

Nervousness and Exhaustion, and diseases arising from imperfect digestion and derangement of the nervous system, Horsford's Acid Phosphate gives the most gratifying results. It nour-ishes and strengthens the entire body.

HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE

Special Attraction

Grand Opera House May 19-20

The Passion Play

Or the Life of Christ

The Greatest Reproduction Ever Given. No One Should Fail to Witness It

Popular Prices

Saturday Matinee 2:30-10-20c Evenings 8:30

Equalization Notice

Notice is hereby given that the Board of County Commissioners of Shawnee County, Kansas, will meet as a Board of Equalization at the office of the County Clerk, at the Court House, in the City of Topeka, on the first Monday in June, 1911, for the purpose of equalizing the valuation of real estate and personal property of said county, as shown by the returns of the County Assessor for the year 1911, at which meeting all persons feeling themselves aggrieved can appear and have all errors in the return corrected.

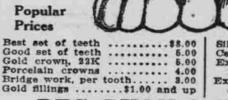

Witness my hand and the official seal of Shawnee County, this 1st day of May 1911.

(SEAL)

S. G. ZIMMERMAN, County Clerk.

Money Saved By Having Your Teeth Attended By Us

date, painless, reliable and the largest dental concern in Kan-

Silver fillings 50c to $1.00 Cement fillings 50c Extracting teeth, freezing gum process50c Extracting teeth without medi-DRS. LYON & HEATHERLY

Office Established over 22 years. Ind. Phone 1115. 511 Kansas Ave., Topeka, Kan. Ov. er W. A. L. Thompson Hdw. Co. PON-YO onouo

GUARANTEED TO PLEASE Please Particular People

The Ponayo Remedies are the result of many years experience of a number of druggists who have been compounding Physician's Prescriptions for years and who have an opportunity of finding the best remedy for the various diseases which man is helr to and from this kind of information has been perfected the Ponayo Prescriptions. They are sold one for each disease, not one for all diseases, on a positive guarantee. Sold only by

MARSHALL BROTHERS—Two Large Stores—2nd and Kansas Avenue The Ponayo Store

Kansas City No Stope Double Track THE Rock Island THE

4:30 A.M. 7:55 A.M. 10:10 A.M. 10:10 A.M. 10:10 A.M. 10:10 A.M. 11:20 A.M. 11:20 A.M. 6:15 P.M. 6:15 P.M. 10:10 P.M. Never too Busy to Answer Questions 11:35 P.M. 11:00 P.M. Phones 384 H. H. HUNT, City Pass. Agt.

You Get 4 % Interest

On Your Savings At the Shawnee B. & L. Association 115 West Sixth Street.

PILES CURED AT HOME BY LADIES CAN WEAR SHOES

NEW ABSORPTION METHOD.

If you suffer from bleeding, itching, blind or protruding Piles, send me your address, and I will tell you how to cure yourself at home by the new absorption treatment; and will also send some of this home treatment free for trial, with references from your own locality if requested. Immediate relief and permanent cure assured. Send no money, but tell others of this offer. Write today to Mrs.

M. Summers. Box P. South Bend, Ind.